Theme— The Alass

The question: "Who is Jesus?" is the underlying one behind the stories of the Gospel. Today that question is asked explicitly. The answer to the question is one which only gradually emerged in the earliest Christian communities. What gave impetus to this question was the fact that Jesus died, apparently a failure and abandoned by most of those who were his followers and perhaps also by god. His subsequent presence among the group of disciples is described by a number of terms in the New Testament; resurrection, exaltation, glorification. This was interpreted by the first Christian communities as God's vindication of him.

Reflection

All Nature Tells Us Nothing Ever Really Dies

Nothing really ever dies that is not born anew, the miracles of nature all tell us this is true.

The flowers sleeping peacefully beneath the winter's snow, awaken from their icy grave when spring winds start to blow, and little brooks and singing streams, icebound beneath the snow, begin to babble merrily beneath the sun's warm glow, and all around on every side new life and joy appear to tell us nothing ever dies and we should have no fear, for death is just a detour along life's wending way that leads God's chosen children to a bright and glorious day.
